BEDLAM

Broke Loose in British House of Commons Last Monday.

Premier Asquith Howled Down in Derision by the Last Ditchers.

Crisis in the Unionist Party and Conservatives are in Danger.

ADJOURNS IN GREAT DISORDER

Bedlam broke loose in the British House of Commons on Monday when Premier Asquith attempted to speak. For the first time in the history of Parliament the speaker was compelled to invoke the rule which empowers him in case of grave disorder to declare the sitting adjourned on his own responsibility. For forty-five minutes Premier Asquith made futile attempts to read from a manuscript, and the Unionists at each attempt howled him down. It is alleged that it was the younger members of the Unionist faction who carried on the tumult. The majority of their colleagues regret it, and fear it will complicate the situation by increasing the determination of their opponents and alienating the sympathies of the country.

Probably a week will elapse before the veto bill, which caused the tumult, will be brought up again in the House of Commons. Meanwhile both sides are preparing to hold demonstrations in an effort to test their strength. The extremists in the Union party arranged a dinner for the Earl of Halsbury, F. E. Smith, one of the "last ditchers," who was a leader in the disturbance on Monday, arranged the demonstration in honor of the Earl, and declared he had the acceptance of 100 Peers. If the party splits as a result of the present strained conditions the extremists will probably select the Earl of Salisbury as leader.

Arthur Balfour, the present leader of the Unionists, deplored the disorderly occurrences of Monday, and as a result cancelled an engagement to address a mass meeting of his supporters on the following day. In his address to the committee that had arranged the meeting Mr. Balfour said:

"The unexpected turn political events have taken during the last few days—even hours—has thrown me a special burden of work, makes it scarcely possible for me to undertake the additional extra involved in a great meeting. I venture to ask that the meeting may be postponed to a convenient time, though I trust not to date."

The other band the Liberals are having a mammoth dinner in honor of Premier Asquith. Among the disorderly ones on Monday was Lord Hugh Cecil, the conservative free trader, from Oxford University, who incessantly chanted: "Divide! Divide! Divide!" Other Unionists shouted "Hurrah for Redmond! He is the real leader!" Mr. Redmond only met these remarks with gestures of derision.

At one time Premier Asquith got so far in his remarks as "The House of Commons carried a resolution in favor of the bill in 1910 by a large majority, and but for the death of King Edward—"

"Keep the King out of politics. Who killed him? You did," resounded from the opposition benches.

Mr. Balfour took the floor and was accorded a respectful hearing. He said he regretted that he was unable to hear what the Prime Minister had to say, but he added that everybody understood that such proceedings as those in which his Majesty's Ministers have indulged can not but excite the deep and passionate feelings of the great mass of the community."

Following the tumult of Monday night Lord Lansdowne issued an appeal to the Unionist Peers to support him. One hundred and nine replied at once and in the affirmative. The really influential members of the Conservative party stand with Lord Lansdowne in favor of a peaceful solution of the situation. These include almost all the members of the last Conservative Cabinet, men like Viscount Curzon, Baron Middleton and Lord Cromer, who talk little but have immense power.

Every sane Tory realizes that the creation of the new Peers means Liberal omnipotence during three eventful years and the death of the House of Lords and the final expiration of titles in England and home rule for Ireland.

PRACTICAL ADDRESSES.

Those active in the "social reform movement" will receive some practical hints from the addresses of His Grace Archbishop Messmer, who will speak on "Christian Social Reform," and John Mitchell, who will have for his subject "The Philosophy of Trade Unionism," at the tenth national convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies.

DECLINES TESTIMONIAL.

On September 29 next Most Rev. Thomas J. Carr will have been twenty-five years Archbishop of Melbourne, Australia. Recently the clergy and laity took steps to commemorate the jubilee by the inauguration or completion of some large work of public utility, as a monument to his labor for a quarter of a century in the diocese. When the Archbishop heard of it he called a halt, declaring he could accept no manifestation of good will that would involve pecuniary sacrifice on the part of a most generous people. A few years ago Archbishop Carr was presented with the unnumbered title deeds of the Cathedral Hall at a cost of $40,000.

QUEER.

Germans to Raise Irish Hops for English Beer.

Germany is going to invade England by way of Ireland. That sounds funny, but it is none the less true. A German nobleman with agricultural and commercial proclivities has bought 2,000 acres of land in Ireland and proposes to raise hops and dispose of them to English brewers.

Baron von Hurst, who with his brother is one of the largest hop growers in the world, will plant American hop roots on his 2,000 acres, and if the experiment proves profitable will buy more land and extend his operations. His hop fields in Lower California are quite extensive, and for ten years he has been supplying the English market with hops that the unsuspecting British supposed were raised in Kent. Then came the tax and American hops became almost prohibitive in Great Britain.

As England is the greatest consumer of hops of any country in the world, it became this German hop king to look around a bit. He knew that the Kent hop fields had been worked so long that they were almost barren. So he went to Ireland.

"I have found," he said, "a spot in Ireland where the rainfall and sunshine the year round are almost the same as in the best hop growing section of Kent. Still better, the soil is practically virgin, because, as you know, Irish farming lands have lain dormant for years on account of the land troubles. The chemical ingredients in the soil are almost the same as those in our hop fields in California. The subsoil is much better than that in Kent."

"I have bought only two thousand acres to start with, but if everything turns out as we think it will I shall take much bigger holdings, although of course the price will run up on us. I got this two thousand acres very cheap. I intend to plant it with three kinds of roots. The female roots I'll bring from California, the male roots from Germany and the east of America. The male roots I will bring from the northern part of New York State and from Bohemia. It will be a sort of cosmopolitan hop that we will grow in Ireland."

Baron von Hurst will not employ Irish labor in the beginning because the Irish people are not familiar with hop culture. He will import 1,100 Germans who understand the business to begin his extensive work. The Baron's home is in Coburg, Germany, but he spends much of his time in America and England.

HOLY CROSS

Getting Ready For Annual Lawn Fete and Supper.

The members of Holy Cross church, Thirty-second and Broadway, have almost completed arrangements for the electric lawn fete and supper to be given on the beautiful church grounds on Monday and Tuesday, August 7 and 8. There will be a great variety of booths and amusements, and the supper will be delicious. Ben A. Lunnehan is the chairman and E. J. Fox the secretary, and they are being assisted by the following committee:

Dining Room—Messrs. T. Wellington, F. Klunder, J. Baker; Messrs. B. Campbell, E. Brennan. Wheel of Fortune—Messrs. T. Philben, T. Gerst, G. Herby, C. Thoben. Ice Cream Booth—C. Herby. Soft Drink Booth—Messrs. Edward Lickel, John Huber, Edward Ratterman.

Fish Pond—Misses Bertha Weiss, Agnes Wellington.

Novelty Booth—Misses Marie Lunnehan, Florence Zoeller; Mrs. E. Queens.

Candy Wheel—John Duttlinger, Mesdames B. A. Lunnehan and J. Duttlinger.

Press Committee—Joe Fontana and Frank Gathof.

Entertainment Committee—Mr. Harold, John Sullivan, John Weiss.

Rev. John Sheridan is the pastor of this growing parish, which extends an invitation to all our citizens to visit this fete on at least one of the two days.

QUIET JUBILEE.

The Rev. Father Seibert, pastor of St. Mary's church, New Albany, celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination on Wednesday, but the celebration was an exceedingly quiet one. None of his parishioners knew that it was his silver jubilee until mass was over. Father Seibert was ordained in Austria and soon after came to America. He was assistant priest at Richmond, Indiana, and Tell City in successive years, until the death of Father Faller, two years ago.

Diamond Jubilee Year of the Ancient Order Brings Tribute.

Copy of Original Charter Is Splendid Specimen of Catholicity.

GROWTH OF ORDER IS STEADY

This is the seventy-fifth anniversary or diamond jubilee year of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in this country. No particular date has been set for the appropriate celebration of the occasion in Louisville, but it is probable that the County Board will take up the matter in due time. The first division of the order was established in New York in 1836. Its growth has been large and steady, particularly in the Central and New England States. Here are the figures compiled by the National Hibernian from the reports of National officers:

Membership of the A. O. H., 160,000.
Membership of the A. O. H. Juveniles, 20,000.
Membership of the L. A. A. O. H., 66,000.

Membership of the L. A. A. O. H. Juveniles, 4,000.
Values of A. O. H. real estate, $1,002,000.

Values of A. O. H. personal property, $200,300.

Value of L. A. A. O. H. personal property, $49,132.58.

Cash in division treasuries, A. O. H., $1,153,030.49.

Cash in division treasuries, L. A. A. O. H., $291,545.75.

Expended for charity, sickness and death, A. O. H., 1909, $1,160,932.51.

Expended for charity, sickness and death, L. A. A. O. H., 1909, $88,019.20.

The Right Rev. Monsignor Thomas J. Shahan, rector of the Catholic University, Washington, D. C., describes the charter upon which the order was founded in this country as a document that breathes an apostolic spirit. "It is," he says, "as good a patent of nobility as was ever conferred by King or Kaiser, for there is wanting in it no essential of the Christian religion, no element of liberal modern humanity." This charter sent to the few Hibernians then in New York breathes the true Irish spirit of faith, tenderness and fraternity, and in principle is surpassed by no organization in the world. Here is the foundation upon which the Ancient Order was bulid and has since flourished:

"All members must be Roman Catholics and Irish or Irish descent, and of good moral character, and none of your members shall join to any secret societies contrary to the laws of the Catholic church, and at all times and all places your motto shall be: 'Friendship, Unity and True Christian Charity.'"

"You must love without dissimulation, hating evil, cleaving to good. Love one another with brotherly love, without preventing one another; let the love of brotherhood abide in you, and forget not hospitality to your emigrant brother that may land on your shores, and we advise you above all things have natural charity among yourselves."

"Also be it known unto you that our wish and prayer is that when you form your society, in many cities or towns, you will do all that is in your power to aid and protect your Irish sisters from all harm and temptation. As the Irish woman is known for her chastity all over the world; some of them may differ, but you in religion, but, brothers, bear in mind that our good Lord died for us, therefore he is known unto you that our wish is that you do all that you can for the Irish emigrant girls, no matter who they may be, and God will reward you in your new country, and doing this you will keep up the high standing and honor of the Irish in America."

"We send these instructions to you, hoping you will carry them out to the best of your ability. Be it known unto you that you are at liberty to make such laws as will guide your workings and for the welfare of our old society, but such laws must be at all times according to the teachings of the Holy Catholic church, and the obligation that we send you, and all of your workings must be submitted to any Catholic priest, when called for. We send you these instructions, as we promise to do, with a young man that works on this ship, and who called on you before. Send a copy to our late friend that you spoke of and who is now working in Pennsylvania. Hoping the hearer and this copy will land safe, and that you will treat him right, we remain your brothers in the true bonds of friendship, this fourth day of May, in the year of our Lord 1836."

The Ancient Order has been foremost in works of charity and in the cause of Catholic education. They have made generous donations to the Catholic University and to the Catholic Church Extension Society, and everywhere have been the guardian and protector of those who had to follow them. This jubilee is one worthy more than ordinary note, and it is needless to say it will be everywhere observed in fitting manner.

FAKIRS.

Newspapers Asked to Aid in Decelving Pious Catholics.

Newspapers throughout the country have been mailed copies of a circular letter asking aid in securing subscriptions from Catholics to raise money to buy a golden statue to be eventually donated to the Sanctuary of St. Anne at Benpre, Canada. To this shrine many thousands of the devout make annual pilgrimages for the sake of the "wonderful cures" which are ascribed to St. Anne in Benpre. Rev. Father M. J. Lavelle, rector of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, had his attention called to the matter this week and immediately said that those behind the scheme were fakirs.

Father Lavelle added: "If they are doing any such thing they are fakirs and the public should be warned. No one has a right to raise money in that way where there is profit for some one concerned. I never heard of this association, and of course it has no authority from the church."

BUSY NIGHT.

Mackin Council Heard Some Very Gratifying Reports.

President Samuel L. Robertson presided over a well attended meeting of Mackin Council on Monday night. Quite a lot of routine business was disposed of during the evening. R. Riddle, C. Schaefer, J. Doran and C. Oswald were reported improving. The reports which will be submitted to the Grand Council on August 20, 21 and 22 will show that on the quarter ending June 30 Mackin had more than 500 members in good standing, and that it had a comfortable balance in the treasury notwithstanding the expensive improvements made in the club house and the heavy drain for sick and death benefits.

Joseph Hancock, who is in charge of the arrangements for the Niagara Falls excursion, August 15, was generally complimented for his work and made a complete report of what had been accomplished. The excursion promises to eclipse the one of last year. The trip is a most excellent one, both by rail and lake, and the figure is exceedingly low for the excursion. Quite a number of young folks have postponed their vacations in order to take advantage of the visit to Niagara Falls.

The committee arranging the sunset excursion to be given this evening also made a report and announced additional attractions.

MURPHY—MEDLEY.

One of the most interesting weddings of the year in the West End will take place Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. Charles Borromeo church, when the Rev. Charles P. Haffo will perform the ceremony uniting Walter J. Murphy and Miss Mary E. Medley, the attractive and accomplished daughter of William Medley, of St. Johns, Ky. The groom is the son of Joseph J. Murphy, the well known brick building contractor, with whom he is associated in business. William Medley, of this city, and Miss Candler Medley, sister of the bride-elect, will be the attendants. Following the church ceremony there will be a wedding dinner and reception at the residence of the groom's parents, 738 South Twenty-fourth street, after which the newly weds will leave for a honeymoon trip to St. Johns and other points in Kentucky.

PASSIONISTS' ELECTION.

The Passionist Fathers of the Western province will assemble here at Sacred Heart retreat on September 8 to elect a Provincial, First and Second Consultants and a Master of Novices. There are 200 members of the order eligible to hold any of these offices. Those who will come to Louisville to attend the general chapter of the province are: The Very Rev. James Heutemann, Provincial, from the Retreat of Immaculate Conception, Norwood Park, Chicago; the Very Rev. Lambert Koudrick, rector at Norwood, St. Louis; the Very Rev. Casimir Taylor, rector of Holy Cross Retreat, Cincinnati; the Very Rev. Daniel McGuire, rector of Sacred Heart Retreat, Louisville; the Very Rev. Daniel Collage, rector of St. Francis Retreat, St. Paul, Kan.; the Very Rev. Adelbert Klemesch, rector at Norwood Park, Chicago; the Very Rev. Albert Cagy and the Very Rev. Isidore Weyer, First and Second Consultants, from Norwood Park, and the Rev. Whiffery, Master of Novices, at Louisville.

PIONEER TO BE HONORED.

It is reported that efforts will be made by leading Catholics of Wisconsin to induce the State to buy the tract along the mouth of the Wisconsin river. It was there, tradition says, that Father Marquette first held the Mississippi river, and it is proposed to name this park Marquette Park in honor of the famous discoverer. The land is now held by one family, who it is said will not oppose its acquisition by the State for park purposes.

RESTING.

Candidates and Supporters Are Preparing for the Fall Campaign.

Democrats Will Have a Platform Convention Here Next Month.

Republicans Liberally Patronized the Bar and Voted for Prohibition.

WHO WILL SUCCEED BINGHAM?

Just at present there is little active work going on in either political party in Louisville or in the State. Candidates and their supporters are resting up preparatory to engaging in a vigorous fall campaign, and it really promises to be a bitter contest. The Democratic leaders say there is no doubt that Kentucky will be redeemed from Republicanism, and that the majority for James H. McCreary and the whole ticket will be conclusive evidence that Kentucky is a Democratic State.

William P. McDonogh and R. Campbell Kennedy, members of the City and County Committee, have secured Masonic Theater for the convention to be held to draft a Democratic platform on August 15. The delegates will be elected at mass conventions throughout the State on August 12.

Already the Republicans regret that they chose Judge Edward C. O'Rear as their standard-bearer. He dominated the convention and is running on a platform as narrow as his own mind. This Republican leader showed his true colors in selecting his running mate by choosing Bristow when two men, either of whom had more strength, were offered him.

He is a fanatic on the prohibition and other questions and his entire platform is narrow and weak, yet the men running on it are not heavy enough to break it down. Just wait until the Democratic orators jump on it and see what will happen.

While the Republican convention was in progress at Phoenix Hill Park, and while the committee on resolutions were drafting a prohibition platform, the bulk of the delegates were liberally patronizing the bar.

It is expected that former Senator McCreary, Rufus H. Van Sant, of Ashland, who has been made chairman of the Democratic Campaign Committee, and Judge Jeremiah A. Sullivan, of Richmond, will arrive early next week and will name the remaining members of the committee.

When the Democratic convention is held in Louisville next month able men will be put forward for each and every office from Judge of the Circuit Court to Constables. One thing is certain, a good man will be chosen to succeed Robert W. Bingham, who after his appointment as Mayor of Louisville by Gov. Beckham did his best to wreck the Democratic party. James P. Edwards, Thomas Barker, Charles P. Taylor, Clem Huggins, Allen Kinney, Marion Ripley and Thomas Walsh have all been spoken of as successors to Judge Bingham. Any one of these attorneys is well qualified to act as Chancellor. In all probability one of them will be chosen.

Neither is there any doubt that men like Barney Campbell, James Treacy, Fred Leazer and others will be nominated to succeed themselves in the Board of Aldermen. There are good men in the Board of Councilmen, too, who deserve re-nomination, men like Jerry King, T. J. Garvey, M. J. McDermott, Dr. C. F. Melton, C. J. Flingens, Ben J. Sand and others.

Even now people are asking why Judge O'Rear has not resigned from the Appellate Bench if he is the upright and honest man that he is. He is one of those grasping individuals who helvees a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush. He promises not to sit with the other Judges from now until the November election, but he will draw the salary just the same and impose additional burdens on the other Judges.

Louisville's non-partisan Board of School Commissioners is again in hot water. They have been accused of making contracts for painting in excess of $50, in the injunction suit filed Sam O. Jones, the Business Director, was named as a co-defendant. The members of the Board have not denied that they had acted without authority, but put up the plea that they were trying to save money for the city. Even Judge Hattigan disagreed with them and granted the temporary injunction asked for. There is a probability that the schools may not open at the regular time and that an immense hole will be made in the funds paid for their support.

The Louisville Evening Post continues to wage war on all saloons. It fails to acknowledge that there are many reputable men in the saloon business, men who are every whit as good morally and mentally as the editor of the Post. There are hundreds of saloons in Louisville that are orderly and law-abiding, yet they are constantly denounced. Everybody who likes an occasional drink can not afford to join the "Pioneers Club." There are many saloon owners who are like taxpayers; they have raised children that are a credit to Louisville and would adorn any community. Why should these men be assailed for the misdeeds of a few?

JARRED HIM.

South Carolina Fanatic Is Sore at Taft and the Press.

The Baptist World, under date of Thursday, July 27, prints the following letter from N. N. Burton, of Batesburg, S. C.:

"I have just read your editorial on 'The Associated Press and the Baptist World Alliance,' and want to thank you for it. I saw it as you did; the Alliance was the most important religious meeting ever held on this continent, and yet there was next to nothing in the daily papers about it. The leading paper in the State had less than a half-column about the entire session. I placed the blame on the papers themselves, not doubting for a moment that the Associated Press had sent reports to all its patrons. It is nothing less than an outrage. Cardinal Gibbons was treated the other day with almost as much consideration as would have been accorded to King George. Is the Roman Catholic church a world power? That its prelates should receive such distinguished attention was given the Cardinal by President Taft and others in Baltimore the other day? If W. H. Taft, the man, chooses to be a Unitarian nobody has a right to say a word, but when W. H. Taft, the President of the United States, accords to the representative of the Catholic church a recognition and indirect endorsement not given to others, he should not be regarded as the spokesman for Protestant America."

ST. COLUMBA'S

Lawn Fete Will Be First On New Parish Property.

The members of St. Columba's congregation have made elaborate preparations for a splendid lawn fete, which will take place next Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon and night, August 1 and 2, on their magnificent new property on Market street, near Thirty-fifth. This is one of the most beautiful spots near Shawnee Park. A delightful shade place will be reserved for the euchre and lotto games in the afternoon. The ladies of the parish will show their usual generosity in the matter of elegant prizes. They will also serve a beautiful supper. Tickets are only twenty-five cents and are good for the afternoon euchre, lotto or supper. Special lotto games will be run for the children at ten cents. There will be an abundance of home-made cakes and other refreshments and a bounteous supply of articles for the wheel and box booth.

Rev. Father John Kalaher, pastor of St. Columba's, invites his friends from other parishes to attend and promises an enjoyable evening to all present.

WON A BRIDE.

Young Irishman Learns Something Besides Shoemaking.

Charles J. Dolan, of Dublin, Ireland, and a former member of Parliament, will marry Miss Katherine Louise Kenney, of St. Louis, in the early fall. The exact date has not been set. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Alice M. Kenney, the wealthy widow of William M. Kenney, who died several years ago. Mr. Dolan is wealthy and is an ardent Irish Nationalist and philanthropist. He resigned his seat in Parliament to come to the United States to study the wholesale shoe manufacturing business, so that he would be better able to administer his own business and in order to provide more and better employment for the poor people of Dublin. When he reached St. Louis he donned overalls and began work at the bottom of the ladder. Since then he has climbed steadily and is now an expert at the business. He is building a home for his bride in Dublin.

INTERESTING LETTERS.

National President James J. Regan has written to County President D. J. Coleman to the effect that he will visit Louisville during the coming fall and expresses regret that he was unable to be here during the summer. He also expresses his appreciation of the growth of the order in Kentucky. President Coleman is also in receipt of a letter from P. J. Hattigan, editor of the National Hibernian, who was recently elected Reading Clerk of the United States House of Representatives. Editor Hattigan thanks Louisville Hibernians for the interest they showed in his race. Both letters were read at the meeting of the County Board, A. O. H., last night.

MOTHER GENERAL HERE.

General Aloysius, the new Superior Mother of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, whose headquarters are at Carthage, Ohio, arrived in Louisville on Monday for a short stay and will probably remain another week. She is engaged in making a tour of all the convents in her jurisdiction. For thirty years she was Mother Superior of the Convent of the Good Shepherd on Bank street.

EDIFYING.

Hundreds of Catholic Men Received Holy Communion at St. George's.

Rev. Father Weiss Complimented Vincentians on Their Good Showing.

Touching Addresses Were Made At General Meeting of the Society.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL'S FESTIVAL

Last Sunday the Vincentians all over the world celebrated the feast of St. Vincent de Paul by receiving holy communion and in the afternoon general meetings of the conferences were held in various cities and towns. The St. Vincent de Paul Society is undoubtedly the leading organized charitable association in the world. It has been in power for good in both the old and the new world. It is only surprising that more Catholic men are not members of this organization. The Vincentians in their respective parishes look after the sick and needy and also aid in securing work for those out of employment. Their charity is always unostentatious and their works bring blessings on themselves and families, because they are constantly practicing both the corporal and spiritual works of mercy.

In Louisville last Sunday all the local conferences made their general communion at St. George's church. The men made the early morning visit from every section of the city, many of them traveling seven or eight miles to attend. All were pleased, and many surprised to see such a handsome structure on South Eighteenth street. The Rev. Father George Weiss, pastor of the church, celebrated the high mass. The music was rendered by an augmented choir under the direction of Prof. Leo Kollros. There were men present from nearly every Catholic choir in the city.

After the gospel Rev. Father Weiss addressed the members of the society, and commented upon the fact that it was their first visit to St. George's. He said he welcomed them with pleasure and that he felt honored to have present so many Catholic men who had handed together to carry out the work and spirit of St. Vincent de Paul. He dwelt upon the service they were rendering to humanity and the church and bade them continue to be faithful members of the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

Father Weiss also told of the establishment of a conference in St. George's parish ten years ago, and dwelt on the good work it had done. It had been his aid in the parish, he said, and as a result the parish and the people were now being rewarded with the blessings of God. Then referring to the gospel of the day, he said that the society was like the tree that brings forth good fruit. The words sunk deep into the hearts of those present and all felt well repaid for their visit to St. George's.

On account of the extensive repairs in progress in St. Francis Hall in the basement of the Cathedral, the general meeting of the conferences was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall, Fourth avenue, near York street. J. J. Caffrey, President of the Particular Council, presided and introduced Rev. Father Richard Murphy, O. M. C., of St. Anthony's church. Father Murphy spoke on the general work of the order and told of his observations of its members in other cities. He admonished all to be faithful Vincentians and assured them that they would receive untold blessings, both temporally and spiritually.

The Rev. Father Eugene Donahue, of the Cathedral, who is Spiritual Director of the Particular Council, and the Rev. Father Louis G. Deppen, who has always taken a deep interest in the Vincentians, both made interesting and instructive addresses. Before the meeting closed twenty new members of the society were enrolled. John A. Boyle told of the work of the order in the Louisville School of Reform and said it was his pleasure to report that there was at present not one Catholic girl in that institution.

ARRIVED SATURDAY.

One of the handsomest and most welcome visitors that has come to Louisville in some time arrived last Saturday at the home of Councilman Charles J. Pinegar, 314 North Nineteenth street. The young man, who weighed in at 160 pounds, but hid fair to gain in flesh. The genial Councilman is all smiles, while the mother and son are getting along nicely. All are being showered with congratulations.

REMEMBER ST. LEO'S.

All friends of Rev. Father John J. Fitzgerald, pastor of St. Leo's church, Highland Park, will please remember that the annual outing will be held on the church lawn next Thursday afternoon and evening. Both dinner and supper will be furnished on the grounds at reasonable prices, and any number of amusements will be afforded for young and old.

OVERSIGHT OR IGNORANCE.

The charitably inclined people of Louisville were both surprised and shocked this week when they read the list of local charities indorsed by the Charities Indorsement Committee of the Board of Trade and Commercial Club as worthy of support. Twenty-two charities are mentioned, only one of which is Catholic, St. Anthony's Hospital. It is possible that the gentlemen have never heard of the Little Sisters of the Poor, the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, St. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital, St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum, St. Lawrence Institute or the St. Vincent de Paul Society, which alone are doing the bulk of the real charitable work of the city. Chairman H. H. Cole, Dr. Henry Tuley, Bernard Selligman, Charles W. Allen, Fred W. Kelsker and Charles F. Huhle are the members of the committee. They are all good men, and therefore the Kentucky Irish American would attribute their failure to recognize the above and many similar charitable institutions to either oversight or ignorance, and sincerely hopes it is the former. When this committee again meets the Board of Trade or Commercial Club should provide it with a City Directory.

ONE WISE JUDGE.

In the trial of a chauffeur for running over a man in Philadelphia a few days ago the Judge thus laid down the law:

"The duty of a chauffeur is to stop or so to reduce the speed of his machine that he may have it under instant control at the intersections of streets, and failure to do so is evidence that must be submitted to a jury as malice against the community; it is evidence upon which to determine whether the driver is guilty of murder in the first or second degree, or in an aggravated case, murder of the first degree."

People should remember that a pedestrian has the right of way at street intersections. The tool of an auto horn does not deprive him of that right. When a man is walking along the street leisurely paying no attention to the auto horn, and is run over, the chauffeur is guilty of murder or manslaughter. So the court decided. People ought to understand the law. In Louisville there is an ordinance compelling drivers of vehicles and autos as well as electric cars to blow up at street intersections, but the law is seldom obeyed because rarely enforced.

LEGATE SHOWN RESPECT.

While the present Spanish Government is supposed to be at war with the Vatican and the kingdom is asserted to be on the point of breaking off all relations with the church, the recent International Eucharistic Congress showed that the church and her ministers are held in high esteem by the bulk of the people. When Cardinal Aguirre arrived at Madrid as special legate from the Pope to preside at the congress, he was received by members of the Spanish Cabinet and was escorted to the King's carriage by the Minister of War.

After a visit to the Cathedral, the Papal Legate was escorted by the King's bodyguard to the royal palace, where he was entertained by King Alfonso. He was the guest of the royal family during his stay in Madrid. The congress was held in the Church of San Francisco el Grande, where Cardinal Aguirre was welcomed by Prince Carlos, who acted for his brother-in-law, the King.

At the close of the first meeting Premier Canalejas and the entire Cabinet waited upon the Legate at the royal palace. All this has created a sensation at Rome and goes far towards bringing a greater amount of conciliatory spirit into the differences which for the last year have been so much bitterness between church and State.

HOUSEKEEPERS WILL REJOICE.

The Canadian reciprocity bill was passed by an overwhelming vote in the United States Senate on Saturday. Nearly all the Senators on the northern border voted against the bill. On Wednesday of this week it was sent back to the House of Representatives for reconsideration, a necessary procedure before the bill can be signed by President Taft. It is now up to the Canadian Parliament to ratify the pact, which will in all probability be done. Both countries have agreed that the reciprocity treaty may be abrogated in case it proves unsatisfactory.

Foodstuffs statisticians say the treaty will prove a boon to the housekeeper and point out that six cents a pound will come off butter, five cents a dozen off eggs, twenty-five cents a barrel off potatoes, one cent a pound off hallbut, twenty-five cents a bushel off apples, 26 per cent. off the value of tomatoes, forty cents a bushel off onions, two cents each off cabbages, twenty-five cents a bushel off peaches, five cents a pound off dressed poultry, live poultry three cents a pound, mackerel one cent a pound, and the duty on bacon and ham was reduced from four to one and a quarter cents a pound.

If these reductions come to pass there will be less kicking about the high cost of living.

KINDLY NOTICE.

The Emerald of Manchester, N. H., contains the following flattering notice, and for which we are duly grateful:

"The Kentucky Irish American has reached the twelfth milestone of its publication career. It is ably edited, a credit to Irish Catholic journalism and worthy of the support and encouragement of the Catholic people of Kentucky. Judging by the advertising columns of the paper, the merchants of Louisville appreciate its worth. The publishers are to be congratulated for the success obtained and may they be at the helm when the twenty-fourth anniversary comes round."

AWFUL SLAM.

The Denver Catholic Register takes a whack at William Jennings Bryan, the one-time idol of some Democrats. It says:

"The Nebraska Democrats have gone back on Bryan; he is a traitor, they say, apropos of his opposition to Gov. Harmon's nomination for the Presidency. Et tu, Brute, indeed! William Jennings has never been traitorous to the cause he holds dearest—which is Bryan; nor to America, for he has given us McKinley and Roosevelt and Taft."

OKLAHOMA BOOSTER.

One of the handsomest journals that has recently come to the exchange table of the Kentucky Irish American is the "booster edition" of the Morning Examiner of Bartlesville, Okla. It is replete with articles on crops, good roads, schools and farming advantages. It is also handsomely illustrated and would make almost any man with a little money take a chance at living in Oklahoma.

SOUND ADVICE.

Lord Londonderry, one of the leaders of the British Peers, warned a meeting of several thousand Orangemen in Belfast that home rule was not to be defeated without the support of the people of Great Britain, and they would lose that support if they indulged in riot and bloodshed. They must oppose home rule only by legitimate means, obey the law and exercise of self-restraint.

CANADIANS PLEASED.

The latest reports from Ottawa say that Canada hails the downfall of the British Peers. Canadian sentiment is largely in favor of the curtailment of the powers of the House of Lords, an institution not in keeping with the democratic standard of Canadian thought.

Chicago Catholics are credited with the report that the Holy Father has decided to name Archbishop James Edward Quigley as the next American Cardinal. While the wish may father the thought, there are none who would not rejoice over the elevation of that able and distinguished dignitary.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians are surely coming into their own again and we are especially proud to see the improvement locally. County Chaplain Cronin, President D. J. Coleman and their associates should receive the hearty support of every loyal Irishman or Irish-American in their good work.

The Republicans tell us how up right and honest Judge O'Rear is, but neglect to explain why he does not resign from the Court of Appeals and is still drawing his annual salary of $5,000, while running day and night after the Governor's chair.

James P. Edwards did just what was expected—accepted defeat gracefully and pledged his support for McCresy, McDermott and the entire Democratic ticket. For men like him there are honors ahead.

The death in Paris of George C. Avery is a serious loss to Louisville. He was an able business man and was head of an industry that afforded employment to hundreds for many years.

Wonder if the Evening Post considers a race track tout beneath their reporters who betray saloon-keepers.

O'Toole and Kelly, the highest priced baseball battery in the history of the game, and not Scotch-Irish either.

DEATH'S CALL

Answered by Capt. Andrew Krakel a Veteran Policeman.

Few men in Louisville were more respected than Capt. Andrew Krakel, who died at his home, 2217 West Broadway, on Wednesday afternoon. Capt. Krakel was a native of Louisville and was sixty-six years old. He served in the Federal army throughout the civil war, and upon returning home was made a policeman.

Always attending to his duties, he soon won the attention of his superiors and moved up step by step until he was made a Captain. His whole service in the police department covered a period of forty-one years. In all that time he was never reprimanded by a superior. Kindly and courteous at all times, Capt. Krakel had the love and esteem of all with whom he came in contact. He resigned from the police force on July 16, 1907. As a reward for faithful service he was given a pension at half a Captain's pay.

Capt. Krakel is survived by four children, A. J. Krakel, Miss Edna Krakel, Miss Florence Krakel and Mrs. H. L. Glass. The funeral will take place this morning from St. Charles Borromeo church and will be attended by members of Whitaker Post, G. A. R., and the Knights of Honor.

The Sisters of Charity and the ladies assisting them hope to meet all their old friends on the grounds and to meet many new ones. The general public is invited to the fete. OPERATED LIKE A SEE SAW

Rev. Luke V. McCabe, D. D., of St. Charles Seminary, Overbrook, Pa., has been pondering over the misfortune that overtook the battleship Maine in the harbor of Havana on February 13, 1898.
Father McCabe shows a thorough knowledge of naval architecture, whether his conclusions in the matter be correct or not. Mr. McCabe is Griffin, the Irish-American historian, has thought well enough of Father McCabe's views to publish a little brochure on the subject.

Father McCabe contends that the Maine was destroyed neither by an internal or external explosion, but simply broke of its own weight.
Among other things Father McCabe
says:

"It should be remembered that the Maine was originally designed for a cruiser. It was only after her construction was nearly complete that she was changed into a battleship.
Afterward when she was finished, according to the new designs, it was found that they did not work out as expected; and a part of her armament had to be moved further back in order to balance the weight of her powerful armament. Keep her head above water. The mechanical principle involved in this operation is well exemplified in the familiar play of see-saw.

"The greater weight on each end, and the farther apart the greater the strain, and consequent danger of breaking of the hoard or pole. In the case of the Maine the greater downward pressure in the bow and towards center and rear, in conjunction with the upward pressure of the water acting as a support or fulcrum in the space intervening, caused a tension and strain greater than had been calculated for. This strain she proved herself strong enough to withstand successfully for two years;
but all the time it was weakening her power of resistance and finally produced the catastrophe.

"This was due therefore to no explosion of gunpowder or other combustible from the inside, and still less from the outside of the vessel.
Of the two main explosions so-called,
which have been testified to, the first I considered to consist simply in the breaking of the keel, caused by the inevitable operation of natural forces as already stated; and the second to be the consequent breaking in two and tearing apart of the whole of the ship's superstructure.

"The uncovering of the wreck and the completion of the operations now going on will, I am confident, enable every one who wishes to test the correctness of the view here put forward; for I can not agree with the statement in a recent interview that the problem is impossible of solution and that the secret will never be known."

Father McCabe's views were sent to the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations and to several newspapers.
His theory is borne out by the testimony of a number of the officers and men of the ill-fated vessel, and recent developments make it appear that Father McCabe is correct.

Donahue and Nellie Broderick seem

Chief Secretary For Ire-

Augustine Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland, used strong language in a speech delivered at Northampton, England, on Wednesday, in referring to the disgraceful scene in the House of Commons on Monday, when Premier Asquith was howled down.
Mr. Birrell said:

"The language hurled at the Premier's head in the House of Commons would have disgraced a gambling hell or a thieves' kitchen.
It was a cold-blooded as well as organized orgy of stupidity and ruffianism."

MANY PLANS

Made For Entertainment
of Knights of Columbus Visitors.

The people of Detroit are preparing to entertain the delegates and visitors to the Knights of Columbus national convention, which will assemble in that city next Tuesday. It is expected that the convention will bring between 6,000 and 7,000 visitors to the city. Headquarters will be at the club house of the Detroit Council, where the sessions of the Supreme Council will be held.

While the delegates will be busy attending to matters connected with the order the visiting Knights and ladies will be enjoying excursions and amusements. One day they will have an all-day trip on the river and on another occasion will be given a moonlight trip. Besides there will be a minstrel show and a grand ball.
Several afternoons will be devoted to automobile rides and the delegates will be entertained with a banquet at the Hotel Cadillac. The convention will open with a solemn high mass at the Church of the Holy Rosary.

the event very quietly. He spent the day with friends at Westminster, Md., and read mass in a private chapel in the house in which he is missions and helps free Catholic schools in similar localities. In twenty-one years it has paid out over $200,000, and distributed over 3,000,000 Catholic books and tracts.

In one of its recent tracts the Society of the Holy Spirit has this to say regarding the position of Catholics on the school question:

The church is not opposed to public education, either in this country or elsewhere. On the contrary, her adherents pay in these United States, without exception, their share of general taxes for school purposes, and in addition they answer the call of their church in the same line by maintaining everywhere a multitude of their own schools, in which a million Catholic children are being taught. The Catholic church engages herself in this matter simply with and for her own. She has nothing to say for or against the public schools, for the use of those who are not of her fold. If the majority of Protestant and Jewish parents are satisfied with these schools that is a matter which concerns them alone and their children. No Catholic that we know of suggests the closing of the public schools as they now are, against those who may find them satisfactory; nor the withdrawing of any educational institution, forming part of a public system, from the jurisdiction of the State. All that is desired is that some suitable plan be adopted which shall combine, for Catholic children, with ordinary secular education, a fair amount of Catholic religious instruction. Precisely this same privilege we would wish extended to any other creed, Protestant or Hebrew, caring to profit by it. All of this, be it observed, is beyond or beside the issue of intrinsic merit between the two systems of education, sectarian and nonsectarian.

Cardinal Gibbons voices Catholic sentiment when he expresses the belief that unsectarian education tends to undermine faith in the divinity of Christ, in revelation, in the necessity of organized and concerted religion, in church authority and in various other fundamental dogmas of our faith. Surely it will not be disputed that the child who with his arithmetic and grammar has had year after year a fair amount of catechism and other religious instruction must grow up understanding the tenets of his church, and be better disposed and prepared in after life to uphold and defend them.

AGED MATRON DEAD.

Mrs. Margaret A. Koppmeier, an aged and respected matron of the East End, died at the family residence, 1312 East Washington street, on Saturday night. Mrs. Koppmeier was born in Germany eighty-four years ago, but had lived in Louisville since she was seventeen years old. Her husband, George H. Kopp-meier, died forty-four years ago.
Four children survive her. They are George Koppmeier, President of C. F.
Vissman & Company, and also a director of the German Insurance Bank; Miss Carrie Koppmeier, one of the supervising principals in the public schools; William Koppmeier and Mrs. A. S. Prins. Her death is mourned by a large circle of friends.

SEEKING THE SIGHTS.

Edward J. Mackey, Secretary of the local detective department, has been spending his ten days' vacation seeking the sights in Chicago. He spent much of his time in company of the Windy City police officials, who showed him every attention and made his visit a pleasant one. Secretary Mackey will be at his desk again Monday.

ARCHBISHOP INSTALLED.

The Most Rev. Edmund F. Presdergast was enthroned as Archbishop of Philadelphia and Metropolitan of Pennsylvania in the Cathedral at Philadelphia on Wednesday. Most Rev. Diomedes Falconio, Apostolic Delegate, presided at the ceremonies.
Many Archbishops and Bishops from other States were present at the installation. Archbishop Presdergast succeeded Archbishop Ryan, who died a few months ago.

season here and then play away un-

Thus it will be seen that President Grayson and Manager Howard not only had to contend with a crippled team and hard luck for over half the season, but were the victims of an unfair schedule, being the worst deal this town has received in scheduled games since the organization of the association. Long trips like the present one have a tendency to wear the fans away from the team and lose interest in the games, as new faces appear in the line-up they whole an injustice to a town the HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

St. Paul divisions are preparing for a field day in August. National Treasurer Thomas Maloney is Mayor of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

The biennial convention of the order in Ireland was held last week in Dublin.

The State officers of Vermont recently instituted a promising auxiliary at Granville.

The division at Nashville has gone to work to double its membership during the jubilee year.

The new Ladies' Auxiliary has boomed the Ancient Order to great activity in Logansport, Ind.

Father Galvin, of St. Ann's church, St. Louis, is a member of Division 3 and an earnest worker for the order.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Syracuse entertained Wednesday night with a trolley party, a new but pleasant venture.

Kentucky Hibernians will be rejoiced when they read that National President Regan will visit their State this fall.

With fine weather and fine sports several thousand people enjoyed a good time at the annual Hibernian outing at Syracuse.

Now that the diamond jubilee is near at hand, let all work and make a good showing of practical interest in our grand old order.

Quite a number, remembering their promise, will propose candidates at the next meeting of their divisions. They are showing the right spirit.

County President Hanley is corresponding with the State-officers with the view of securing a big Hibernian reunion at Logansport in the near future.

The Hibernians of Hennepin county made a splendid showing before the citizens of Minneapolis during civic week at the pageant of all nations.

From present indications the Ladies' Auxiliary picnic and reunion at Fontaine Ferry will be a great success. Only the weather man can interfere.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet Wednesday night, when the various committees will report and the finishing touches for their picnic will be perfected.

The County Board expects every division to make complete returns next week for the Phoenix Hill celebration. Members should not delay in this matter.

Martin Sheridan, Matt McGrath and Melvin Sheppard, of New York, will give exhibition at the Hibernian field meet at Milwaukee on August 5, which promises to be the largest ever held in Wisconsin.

Division 1 meets Tuesday night and will have much business to transact. President Murphy and Treasurer Lawler will suggest plans for a fall program, and therefore they request every member who can to be present.

Division 2 expects a rousing meeting of its members next Wednesday night. The officers will have some interesting reports, and in addition there will be several questions for consideration that concern the work of the coming fall and winter.

Besides offering $800 in prizes for firemen for their field day at Waltham, Mass., the Hibernians will give $1,000 in addition, prizes, which promises to make their Labor day celebration one of the largest events ever held in New England.

Members of Division 3 should not forget that their meeting takes place Monday night and not the week following. This change was made in friendship for the Ladies' Auxiliary, who will have their annual reunion on August 7 at Fontaine Ferry Park.

SPRINGFIELD.

Big Gathering of Friends of the Dominican Fathers.

On Saturday, August 5, the good people of St. Rose parish—attended for more than a century by the Dominican fathers—will welcome their friends at the Springfield Fair Grounds. The pastor and people are making earnest efforts to provide a pleasant and memorable day for the many guests who are expected from Louisville, Bardonia, Lebanon, Chicago and all other neighboring towns. Arrangements have been made to entertain young and old with good music and enjoyable sports, and the ladies in the dining hall will sustain the reputation they have justly established for generous hospitality. For the convenience of the Louisville friends of the Dominican Fathers, a special train will leave the L. and N. depot at 9:30 a. m., returning at a reasonable hour in the evening. This gathering will afford opportunity for a gala day in the country, and a good time is assured to all who attend.

MOVING PICTURES.

The offerings for next week at the Casino and Orpheum picture houses are expected to command unusual interest among the patrons of this form of amusement. They will present romantic drama, country scenes and comedy films that provoke much mirth, and in addition the latest illustrated songs.

Recommended by a Pastor.

Damianville, Ill., March 10, 1910.

My daughter suffered 4 years from Epileptic Fits, had 3 to 4 attacks in a week, often that many in a single day. Our doctor treated her without any results. Rev. Otto Meier recommended

Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic, which she took, and after that would not get more than one fit or 2 fits in a month. Upon advice from the doctor of the Koenig Medical Co. we gave her the Antiepileptic Tablets besides, and she has since no attack since.

Mrs. C. G. Jones, San Antonio, Tex., 1418 San Pedro Ave., writes:—For fifteen years I was sick with fits which continued up to 4 years ago, when I took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic, and had just one attack since. My heartiest thanks for that blessed remedy.

FREE A Valuable Book on Nervous Diseases and a Sample Bottle to any address. Poor patients also get the medicine free. Prepared by the Rev. Father Koenig, of Ft. Wayne, Ind., since 1876, and now by the gave a garden party on the spacious lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Foshinger, corner Vernon and Sycamore avenues in Clifton, on Wednesday, August 30. The garden party is for a worthy cause and no doubt will be well patronized.

Fontaine Ferry Park. Cavallo and his band of thirty musicians will spend another week at Fontaine Ferry Park, and those who have heard the music are loud in praise of the park management in securing such a splendid attraction. Handmaster Cavallo renders both popular and classical music and has been liberal in responding to enclosures. For the theater another stellar vaudeville bill is announced, bringing a number of first-class artists never seen here before.

VISITS OLD HOME.

Rev. Father John B. Kelly, O. P., spent several days in Louisville this week, and is now sojourning at West Baden, Ind. Father Kelly is a native of St. Louis Bertrand parish and is a nephew of Judge Matt O'Doherty. He will return to the Dominican convent at Newark, N. J., in a few days.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

Flax promises well this year, and in consequence many old mills long silent are being repaired.

Ballyellen House, the fine residence of P. J. Maher, near Bogalstown, was totally destroyed by fire.

The Twelfth passed off without incident, the Orange gatherings generally being smaller than those of former years.

In the North Farney district hay-making is being proceeded with and is a very good crop. Potatoes are also looking well.

As one outcome of the Royal visit the sales of Carrickmacross lake were largely boomed by many of the leading Dublin houses.

Alderman Maurice Quinlan, James Young and John Walsh, auctioneer, have been appointed Justices of the Peace for the city of Waterford.

At its annual meeting in Drogheda Messrs. Laurence McKeown and Joseph McArdle were co-opted members of the Louth County Council.

The Most Rev. Dr. Browne has appointed the Rev. William Fortune, of Rathmacknac, County Wexford, to be a Canon of the diocese of Ferns.

Bishop O'Donnell said it had been suggested by Joseph Tigler, of Belfast, that a monument be erected in the Diamond, Donegal, to the memory of the Four Masters.

The recent census shows that the population of the County Waterford has decreased 3.9 per cent. during the past ten years. The present population is 83,766. In 1841 the population was 191,579.

The Most Rev. Dr. Browne has appointed Very Rev. Canon Higgins, of Blarney, in succession to the late Canon Lynch; Rev. Thomas Madigan, of Castlebar, and Rev. Denis O'Connor to Queenstown.

Justice Madden, presiding in the Crown Court at Leitrim Assizes, was presented with a pair of white gloves, there being no criminal business for disposal. The Judge expressed the liveliest satisfaction at the crimeless condition of the county.

News of the death of Christopher Clinton at Carrickmacross was received with feelings of widespread regret in the locality in which he lived. Deceased had reached a ripe old age and enjoyed remarkably good health till about three months ago, when symptoms of the disease to which he succumbed began to manifest themselves.

Within a few hours of each other three fatalities occurred recently at Ballina, County Mayo. Mrs. Battle died while partaking of breakfast; a man named Clarke while attending a market dropped dead; George Bagnall, aged sixty, while driving a young horse, tripped and fell beneath his cart. One wheel passed over his chest, killing him.

The death of Mrs. Julia Duffy, relict of the late Hugh Duffy, caused widespread sorrow at Newbliss. She was a loving mother and devoted wife, and possessed of all those exemplary principles that go to make a good Christian. She was a staunch adherent to the teachings of her church, of which she received the last rites with the utmost devotion.

FEASTS.

Franciscans and Dominicans Will Have Solemn Observances.

TWO FEASTS.

Two important feasts of the church will be celebrated during the first week in August, that of Portlunula and that of St. Dominic. That of Portlunula will be celebrated on Wednesday, August 2, and while the feast of St. Dominic falls on Friday, August 4, it will be solemnly observed at St. Louis Bertrand church on the following Sunday. Following the usual custom the Franciscans from St. Boniface Convent will officiate at the solemn high mass for the Dominicans on that day.

St. Francis of Assisi and St. Dominic were contemporaries and personal friends. Each founded a great religious order and the members of the two orders have maintained a deep fraternal feeling for eight centuries. The Portlunula Indulgence came originally from the Franciscans, but later the privilege of obtaining this indulgence was extended to many other churches. Now Pope Pius X. has extended the privilege for an indefinite number of years. In Louisville the indulgence may be gained at any of the churches presided over by the Franciscans, and at the Cathedral, St. Patrick's, St. Martin's, St. Mary Magdalen's, St. Paul's and St. Francis of Rome.

HOPKINS' THEATER.

The vaudeville offerings at the Hopkins', on Market street, are proving to be so attractive to visitors and the public that the management has determined to procure finer attractions for the theater than those hitherto engaged. The bill for the coming week promises to be remarkably good and includes a number of acts that come directly from the East.

PRIEST VISITS PARENTS.

Rev. Father James Gregoire, of the old Cathedral, Vincennes, Ind., is spending two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gregoire, of 609 West Market street, New Albany.
